Blue Ridge Committee for Shenandoah Park Relations

Board Details

The purpose of the Blue Ridge Committee for Shenandoah Park Relations (Committee) is to provide a two-way conduit for information. Park management decisions today impact surrounding counties much as the original land acquisitions did in the 1930s. These include wildlife management practices, law enforcement, cross promotion of tourism, and potential expansion. Likewise, decisions on the County level can have significant impact on the Park, especially land use issues.

By establishing this Committee, the Counties can consider issues related to the Park in a comprehensive and informed manner and, when consensus is reached, communicate with one voice to Park management. Park management can have an ongoing and regular dialogue with its neighbors. Legislators can avail themselves of this opportunity to keep current on the issues which impact a large number of constituents and vast land area.

Reasons for Seeking to Serve on the Board, Commission, or Committee:

Make a difference in my community, continue to serve on the board. As a former partner in a business in the City of Charlottesville, I am well aware at how valuable a vibrant economic development program can be in supporting its jurisdiction. A good economic development program seeks businesses that will add value to a community on multiple levels, bringing high-paying and quality jobs or quality housing opportunities, and making its jurisdiction a business-ready and valuable partner for the right opportunity. As a twenty-year homeowner and resident of Albemarle County, I have witnessed up close the ongoing transformation in Albemarle County, the shift of traditional jobs with large employers away from the County and surrounding community and an influx of newer technology jobs, additional service sector jobs, and an ever-increasing but poorly tracked number of remote jobs. This increase in residents has created an increased demand on services in the county and continues to stress the residential tax base instead of generating new commercial and industrial facilities that would ease the burden on the residential taxpayer. A vibrant economic development authority will add substantial value to its jurisdiction and smooth the tax burden. As a member of the 5th & Avon Community Advisory Committee for the past seven years, I had a front-row seat to residential and commercial projects in the Scottsville and Samuel Miller Districts. During my time on the Committee, I have pushed developers and those seeking approvals to make the projects as good for the community as they could possibly be, and not just as profitable as they could be for a developer. Good economic development projects make money. Great economic development projects make money and improve their communities. By pushing for great projects, I have and will continue to make Albemarle a better place to live, work, play, and raise a family. As a long-time member of the community, a former small-business owner, and an individual deeply invested in the continued success of Albemarle County, I hope to serve on the Economic Development Authority in order to help improve business, employment, commercial, residential, and industrial opportunities for current and future members of our community. Thank you for your thoughtful consideration of my application. Respectfully submitted, David Storm

Reasons for Seeking to Serve on the Board, Commission, or Committee:

As a current planning commissioner, I've been deeply engaged in the AC44 process and particularly helping make sure that all the good work that has been done in the previous comprehensive plan is not lost. While obviously the entire plan is of importance to me, I've particularly tried to help make sure that the rural area, biodiversity and natural resources are all represented well in the plan. I'm also excited that this plan will do more to reflect equity and diversity. I've also enjoyed the process of working with applicants and the community to help solutions where possible. I particularly was proud of the common ground we found with the Crozet Mobile Home Park, to make sure that we placed as few obstacles as possible for them to provide more affordable housing in Crozet, while also assuring the community that a vital pedestrian connection would be made. I've long been engaged in the comprehensive planning process in Albemarle County, and I've helped write significant sections of the comprehensive plan, including the natural resources section. As a life long resident of Albemarle, I'm also excited about continuing opportunities to help the County to reach its comprehensive plan goals, and make sure that Albemarle grows in a well thought out and organized manner consistent with the needs and values of Albemarle residents. As a former Director on the Thomas Jefferson Soil and Water Conservation District, I'm also well aware of the potential impacts of development on natural resources, like water quality, and the important remediation measures that should be in place to prevent those impacts. I'm also very familiar with meeting procedures, like Roberts Rules and conducting effective meetings. As someone who grew up in Albemarle County, I feel connected to its landscape and invested in its future. Our population has grown rapidly since I've been alive and I've seen many changes, not all of them good. Growing up in Ivy, I witnessed what happened when growth exceeded the infrastructure to support that growth resulting in inadequate water. I've seen rare habitats wiped out by careless development practices, but I've also seen what can happen when developers and citizens can be educated about county goals, like biodiversity, and are given the chance to do the right thing, like the new salamander tunnels on polo grounds road. The classes I've taken at UVA, including Brownfield Remediation, have also taught me the importance of good planning, and redevelopment of underused or neglected places, and that challenges that come from that. I'm excited to continue to help identify those opportunities and play a role in implementing our counties vision.

- Conceptualized and directed the design and implementation of a new Campus Facilities Management System (FMS). FMS provides the Campus with a new tool for space management and planning at the department, college and campus levels, as well as a streamlined approach to execute University of California Office of the President (UCOP) and State mandated reporting functions.
- Led campus efforts to identify, prioritize, and recommend major capital projects to the campus executive leadership (Deans, Vice Chancellors, Provost, and Chancellor). It is the Associate Director’s responsibility to then supervise and coordinate the planning process for all capital projects.

Principal Educational Facilities Planner (2002 to 2004) – responsible for the development of capital improvement strategies to create and sustain a competitive advantage in attracting students, hiring faculty, and developing new research initiatives. Notable achievements include:

- Led collaborative building programming process between the Bourns College of Engineering and the College of Natural and Agricultural Sciences to develop a strategic plan and facilities program for the first interdisciplinary/multi-college research building on the UCR campus. The program for UCR’s Materials Sciences and Engineering Building has become a benchmark for the integration of programs in nanotechnology, materials science, and bioengineering.
- Identified key deficiencies within the campus animal research facilities and developed and implemented strategies to regain a competitive status.
- Development of a campus infrastructure master plan, including all major campus utility systems (chilled water, electrical systems, sewer system, domestic water, and steam /condensate return). This process evaluated each system’s capacity, and identified over $55 million in improvements to meet the growth needs of the campus and solve aging infrastructure problems.

Senior Educational Facilities Planner (1999 to 2002) – charged with the establishment of budgetary and programmatic requirements for major capital projects; development of analyses and justifications for building projects within the State and Non-State Capital improvement queue; and the management and coordination of consultant teams, building planning committees, and other campus staff on major capital projects.
